Volume IV

FOREWORD

Memories of our past years at Seven Springs linger in our minds as we, the Seniors of '51, complete our school days here. These full and happy days have been filled with work, play, joys, sorrows, laughter and tears.

Through many hours of pleasant toil the Staff has tried to bring back a few of the best of these memories. We sincerely hope this book will meet with the approval of our predecessors.

As you turn through these pages may it bring you a new and pleasant memory.

HISTORY

In 1939, 49 bashful ambitious students entered Seven Springs School under the supervision of Miss Ella Gillerlain. Alyce Price, Evelyn Lamm, Joyce Head, Nannie Daly, Janet Price, Janet Ward, Edna Griffin, Chester Sutton, Edwin Holmes and Bryant Shivar completed school together.

Richard Whitfield joined in the third grade and Kenneth Beasley in the fifth. Inez Sullivan and Patty Price were transferred from Indian Springs to our class in the seventh grade.

Our eighth grade, under the supervision of Mr. Wilbur Williams, was very successful. Forty-one students graduated from grammar school that year, the beginning of four happy years. Mr. Alvin Suggs was our teacher during our Freshman year.

Exams were soon over and we were promoted to the tenth grade. Mrs. Damon Fields was our teacher.

Then we became Juniors under Mrs. Ellen Gray. During that year we enjoyed class parties and the Junior-Senior Banquet. We were very successful in producing the Junior Play, "No Bride for the Groom".

In the fall of 1950 we came to school as Seniors. Mrs. Gertrude Scott was our most efficient guide and adviser.

Our class officers were Alyce Price, President; Chester Sutton, Vice-President; Edna Griffin, Secretary; Bryant Shivar, Treasurer; Catherine Potter and Edwin Holmes, Reporters. We selected Mesdames Alton Daly and E. L. Potter for our Grademothers. Our mascots were Jackie and Jeannie Price, and Heber and Teddy Hunt.

The fourth edition of the Sespriscohan was a great success. Janet Ward was the editor, and Mrs. Gertrude Scott was the sponsor.

Then came the exciting month of May. By the time we had taken our exams, we were practising the graduation exercises, and were receiving our diplomas. Graduation was over and the time had come for us to separate. On May 30, 1951 we graduated from Seven Springs looking ambitiously into the future.

ALYCE PRICE

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the members of the Senior Class of Seven Springs High School, being of sound mind and body, do declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

We, Nannie Daly and Alyce Price, leave all our rights of the Bouncer Club to Mr. Waters. We hope he will be more understanding with the club.

I, Patty Price, will my ability to slip off and not get caught to Robbie Kornegay.

We, Catherine Potter and Evelyn Lamm, bequeath our ability to keep secrets to Tempie Faye Creech and Lucille Williams.

I, Virginia Fields, will my curly hair to Louise Price, so she won't have to curl her hair to have her picture taken.

I, Chester Sutton, leave my jolly nature and ability to get along with people to Rex Price.

I, Joyce Head, leave my ability to get along with everybody to the incoming Junior Class, knowing they will need it next year.

I, Edna Wyse Griffin, will all my ability to play basketball to the future ninth grade. Be sure to use it and win some games.

I, Edwin Holmes, bequeath my extra height to Donald Davenport so he will make a better basketball player.

I, Inez Sullivan, leave my ability to laugh in any class to Rachel Moore. Get more fun out of school, Rachel.

We, Janet Ward and Janet Price leave our ability to pass the School Bus test after three attempts, to anyone who happens to be that unlucky.

I, Bryant Shivar, leave my ability to get acquainted with all the girls to Theodore Tilghman and Piccolo "Pete" Jones.

I, Kenneth Price, bequeath my ability to stay out of school everyday, coming a few times a week at activity period, to Emma Jean and Justeen Kilpatrick.

I, Richard Whitfield, leave my baseball playing technique to Ronald Davenport. Get those long arms wound up and ready to go.

I, Kenneth Beasley, will my ability to sleep in class to Christine Smith. She won't have to worry about staying out late with Lebron.

I, Grover Williams, bequeath my right to at least two vacations a year to Jake Maxwell. Work hard Jake and take your vacations.

I, J. W. Jones, will my quiet ways to all the Junior boys, so they won't disturb Miss Freeman's English Classes.

We, the Senior boys, will our ability to get a week's vacation, to the Junior boys so they won't get bored with their school work.

PROPHECY

They told me I had to prophesy
But I know not what to do
For I wasn't born a prophet
Anymore than one of you

But wait! Incense drifts around me, the lights grow dim, the mist begins to rise, and forms begin to waver before me. I see Edna Wyse Griffin, her husband and their two boys at their Spring Garden Estate, which is noted for its production of rare hybrid orchids.

The world's largest baseball stadium appears and Edwin Holmes, Manager and Coach of the Thunderbolts walks on the field.

Across the street is a 50-acre furniture store, owned by Chester Sutton. In front is parked a 1961 Cadillac, one of his many cars.

The University of Seven Springs comes into view and Janet Ward is turning the corner at Trickling Brook and Riverview Streets. Janet is head of the Department of Atomic Geometry at the University, a phase of Math that was discovered by her.

Someone is coming out of the Hollywood Theater! Oh, it's Nannie Daly, leading lady for J. W. Jones, Jr., on her way to the beauty salon of Virginia Fields, who is the private cosmetologist of Nannie.

I pause a second and a zooming sound comes closer. Looking toward the northern horizon the outline of a U. S. Jet Flying Saucer appears. Kenneth Beasley, covered with medals, is at the controls. Kenneth was the No. 1 hero in the American-Kryptonian War on the Planet Krypton.

Another hero of this war during the Battle of the Helium Sea, was Admiral "Dick" Whitfield. I see him as he steps from his yacht at Pier No. 5 at the foot of Price Street. To greet him is Kenneth Price, and his two sons, in their Rocket-Car-Helicopter, (an invention of Kenneth's).

Around the block on Shady Dale Avenue is the new $200,000,000 State Hospital where Patty Price, Janet Price, and Catherine Potter are caring for their psychiatric patients.

Out of the city on State Park Road, Grover Williams and his seven boys operate a 100,000,000 acre dairy farm stocked with 500,000,000 Jerseyshire cows.

In the La Grange Division of Seven Springs, Bryant Shivar, president of Packard Cars, Inc., dictates a letter in his spacious office to his pretty secretary, Evelyn Lamm.

Kelly's Mortuary on 103 North Easy Street appears before me and the owner, Alyce Price and her husband drive away in their jet-propelled ambulance.

A few blocks down the street the dome of Sullivan's Missionary College come into view. Inez Sullivan, the founder and president is sitting under a tree on the campus eating a bar of candy.

The final picture passes before me, one of Joyce Head as she gulps down a pecan pie. She is chief pie sampler and owner of a large pie factory on Main Street. The lights brighten, and the pictures fade out.
